

J. Larry Brown, Ph.D

Dr. Larry Brown is founding director of the Center on Hunger and Poverty. As a Member of the Faculty at Harvard School of Public Health, Dr. Brown also served as chairman of the Physician Task Force on Hunger in America, whose work prompted Congressional action to address the revelations of growing hunger during the 1980s. He is the founder of the Feinstein Famine Center, as well as a past board chair of Oxfam America.

Brown also is the author of numerous articles in both lay and scientific journals, such as Scientific American, Encyclopedia Britannica, and The American Prospect and has authored several books, including Hunger in America: The Growing Epidemic and Living Hungry in America. Dr. Brown has testified frequently before Congress, and has appeared on many major news programs including Nightline, The Today Show, Good Morning America, and the Nightly News Hour.