

Sodexo Foundation Heroes of Everyday Life Award

What is a Hero of Everyday Life?

A Hero of Everyday Life is a Sodexo employee who has invested their time, talent, and service spirit in helping those who suffer from hunger in their community.

When are the Heroes of Everyday Life Award presented?

There is a call for nominations starting in January. Nominations must be received by March 13th. Finalists are chosen by the middle of April. The awards are presented at the Sodexo Foundation Dinner in June. In addition to the award, a Sodexo Foundation grant is made to each honoree's hunger-related charity of choice.

Why are we giving an award for this?

Sodexo is committed to making a significant impact in ending hunger. We want to recognize those Sodexo employees who have invested their time, talent and service spirit to help some of the 35 million people who are at risk of hunger in the United States. Their efforts make us proud and we strongly believe they should be officially and publicly acknowledged for their dedication, creativity, leadership and contributions to their communities.

How do I nominate someone?

Complete the nomination online, www.SodexoFoundation.org

To be considered, a nominee's activities must have had a demonstrated impact.

How has the nominee changed his or her community for the better? How many people have been helped? Has the nominee motivated others to join the fight against hunger? How innovative was his or her approach to the problem of hunger?

Some examples may include but are not limited to:

- fundraising;
- mentoring/job shadowing;
- food rescue or feeding programs;
- back-to-work training;
- legislative activities
